Re: United States Auction Purchases

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am writing to confirm that our dealership, _____, is not engaged in business in the United States and does not sell tangible personal property in the United States. We operate as a vehicle dealer business in Mexico. We represent and warrant that we and our registered representatives will directly export out of the United States ANY VEHICLE we purchase at an AuctionACCESS subscribing auction (including Manheim, Inc. and its affiliates, ADESA, Inc. and its affiliates, and all other subscribing auctions, collectively, "Auctions"), and we will not re-sell them in the United States. We will re-sell such vehicles ONLY outside the United States, in the regular course of our dealership business, with any applicable taxes being paid there by us.

We further agree and represent that, where required by Auctions; we will surrender to Auctions any license plates remaining on any such vehicle before the vehicle is removed from the Auctions premises. We will make all of our representatives aware of this requirement and ensure they comply.

We further represent and promise to Auctions that, in relation to any vehicles acquired through Auctions, we will comply with all laws, regulations, and Auctions' policies pertaining to the wholesale purchase of a vehicle intended for export, including obtaining any U.S. state specific license or permit necessary to lawfully transport the purchased vehicle to Mexico.

We understand that failure to honor the commitments stated herein will result in suspension of dealership's privileges at Auctions and may also lead to criminal and civil charges.

Sincerely,
